

The best legacy you can leave your loved ones is an updated estate plan.

Estate Planning Council of Seattle

A non-profit association of estate planning professionals promoting the highest quality of estate planning services:

- Attorneys
- Certified Financial Planners
- Certified Public Accountants
- Chartered Life Underwriters
- Chartered Financial Consultants
- Trust Officers

To find an estate planning professional or to receive education information and resources about estate planning, contact the Estate Planning Council of Seattle at 206-285-4066, info@epcseattle.org.

The Estate Planning Council of Seattle offers the following publications:

- "Estate Planning"
- "The Fiduciary's Handbook"
- "Dealing with the Death of a Loved One"

To order copies, please go to the Estate Planning Council of Seattle's website at epcseattle.org/cat/publications1.cfm

“Don't forget about the Washington estate tax when updating your estate plan. Unlike the new $5 million federal estate tax exemption, the $2 million Washington state estate tax exemption has not increased.”

– Rick Conrad, President, Estate Planning Council of Seattle
Senior Vice President & Director of Trust & Fiduciary Services with Wells Fargo Private Bank Mountain NW Region

